Many Christ-followers grow to maturity over time and by accident, but have no idea how to reproduce discipleship in others. This book is designed to serve as an intentional, clear, cohesive roadmap to embarking on the journey of being a disciple of Jesus Christ and discipling others. This resource is intended to be used as a catalyst to love Jesus more, a tool to contour a life, a curriculum to shape a mind, and a resource to multiply the qualities of a disciple in others. All of this must, however, take place in the context of a relationship. Spiritual formation is meant to be realized in community. Discipleship is a journey that we do not take alone. "Page after page, followers of Jesus will find themselves on a guided tour through a discovery process where they will hear new invitations to take 'the next step' on their journey to becoming more like the Master." George Boyd, District Superintendent, Associated Gospel Churches "...a tremendous resource that will effectively equip both leaders and participants in the Christian life. I would recommend Disciple as a resource for small group study, mentoring programs, or initiatives to disciple new and growing believers." Darren DeGraaf, Director of Leadership Services, Arrow Leadership "Mike, thank you for helping us understand the spiritual journey of discipleship as a balance of biblical clarity, individual humility, and missional involvement." John Latta, Director, Canadian Youth Network "...an exceptional tool that will impact any reader at the lay, professional, academic, and personal levels. Every chapter includes thoughtful, enriching and compelling information, insights, and applications toward deepening the journey of discipleship." Paul E. Magnus, President Emeritus and Distinguished Professor of Leadership and Management, Briercrest College and Seminary "I love the emphasis on the Scriptures and the premise that these topics and passages are worthy of our attention and our conversation together." Dwayne Uglem, President, Briercrest College and Seminary
