The Black Diamond Trader Indicators are great. They visually show you on the trading chart great entry and exit spots. After using the indicators for a while, you might like them so much that you wish there was a way to automatically have certain trades placed for you instead of having to watch your screen like a hawk. That's where the Automator comes in. The Automator can automatically execute trades for you based on the Black Diamond Trader indicators, or simply ALERT you to your pre-defined entry/exit conditions in order for the trade to be taken manually. Adjust the input parameters to your liking or trading style, then let it take care of the sometimes tedious process of watching the charts and deciding when to place trades. There is so much value in the Automator that we had plans to sell it separately from the Black Diamond Trader indicators, but decided to add it as a free bonus to really send the Black Diamond Trader system over the top! Customers who purchase the indicator set right now have the opportunity to use the Automator as well for no extra charge! Yes, it is yours for FREE if you act now. the original price
