Race, Place and Globalization: Youth Cultures in a Changing World - Anoop Nayak

What does it mean to be young in a changing world? How are migration, settlement and new urban cultures shaping young lives? And in particular, are race, place and class still meaningful to contempor