

A World without Words: The Social Construction of Children Born Deaf and Blind - David Goode

During the Rubella Syndrome epidemic of the 1960s, many children were born deaf, blind, and mentally disabled. David Goode has devoted his life and career to understanding such people's world

