

Ancient Objects and Sacred Realms: Interpretations of Mississippian Iconography

Between AD 900-1600, the native peoples of the Mississippi River Valley and other areas of the Eastern Woodlands of the United States conceived and executed one of the greatest artistic traditions of

