Redrawing Nations: Ethnic Cleansing in East-Central Europe, 1944-1948

After World War II, some 12 million Germans, 3 million Poles and Ukrainians, and tens of thousands of Hungarians were expelled from their homes and forced to migrate to their supposed countries of ori