

Creating Music: What Children from Around the World Can Teach Us - Patricia Elaine Riley

Children create music in individually unique ways, but also using common processes. Each creating process component stated in the United States' National Music Standards (imagine, pl

