

Consuming Higher Education: Why Learning Can't be Bought - Joanna Williams

Consuming Higher Education explores the status of students within the university and society, and the funding and purpose of higher education, drawing on empirical data, UK and USA government p

