Sharing Lives: Adult Children and Parents - Marc Szydlik

Sharing Lives explores the most important human relationships which last for the longest period of our lives: those between adult children and their parents. Offering a new reference point.