Sugarlandia Revisited: Sugar and Colonialism in Asia and the Americas, 1800-1940

Sugar was the single most valuable bulk commodity traded internationally before oil became the world's prime resource. From the sixteenth to the eighteenth century, cane sugar production was pre-