Linguistic Minority Students Go to College: Preparation, Access, and Persistence

Currently, linguistic minority students—students who speak a language other than English at home—represent 21% of the entire K-12 student population and 11% of the college student popu